

Sign language is a crucial mode of communication for individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing, with a fascinating history and development, a significant role in society, particularly in education and inclusivity, and a promising future as technology continues to evolve and global awareness increases. As we move forward, it is essential that we continue to support and promote sign language as a vital mode of communication, ensuring that deaf individuals have equal access to communication and social and educational activities.</s>